

The public is cordially invited to a symposium

The Israel – European Union Open Skies Agreement: What Impact After Five Years?

Monday, May 7, 16:00-20:00 | Maiersdorf Faculty Club, Room 405
Mount Scopus Campus, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

16:00 Reception

16:30 Greetings

Prof. Gili S. Drori, Director, The European Forum at the Hebrew University

Mr. Hermann Bünz, Director, Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung Israel

Dr. Maya Sion-Tzidkiyahu, Co-President, The Israeli Association for the Study of European Integration

16:45 The Open Skies Agreement

Mr. Giora Romm, Former Director of the Civil Aviation Authority, Israel

The Open Skies Agreement: An Exercise in Bridging Different Cultures

Amb. Emanuele Giaufret, Head of the Delegation of the European Union to the State of Israel

EU-Israel Open Skies Agreement: The European Perspective

18:00 Coffee Break

18:30 Roundtable: The Social, Economic and Geographic Implications of the Open Skies Agreement

Moderator: Dr. Maya Sion-Tzidkiyahu

Prof. Nicole Adler, Head of Department of Operations Research and Operations Management, School of Business Administration, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Mr. Ishay Don-Yehiya, Director, Economic & International Affairs Division, The Civil Aviation Authority, Ministry of Transport

Mr. Pini Shani, Senior Deputy Director General, Tourism Experience Administration Ministry of Tourism

Prof. Noam Shoval, Geography Department, Provost of the Rothberg International School, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Mr. Sándor Szelekovszky, Head of Trade and Economic Section, The Delegation of the European Union to the State of Israel

To participate in the symposium, please register via email to mseuro@mail.huji.ac.il

פורום אירופה באוניברסיטה העברית
EUROPEAN FORUM AT THE HEBREW UNIVERSITY

FRIEDRICH
EBERT
STIFTUNG